May 1 and May 3, 7:00 pm. Pilipino Cultural Night (PCN) is a student-run event open to the community to celebrate the Filipino-American Experience. It showcases the cultural dances and performance of traditional songs from the Philippines, as well as elements of the Filipino-American culture.

In "Lovewrecked: Diary of a Manilaman," Marc is having problems with his girlfriend. Marc learns of the forbidden love between Manuel and a beautiful woman named Rose. He tries to bring the two together and in doing so, he learns the value and meaning of love.

The show is primarily based upon the work of the students enrolled in English 104: Applied English Skills in Cultural Production. The students worked with Master Danongan "Danny" Kalanduyan, artistic and executive director of the Palabuniyan Kulintang Ensemble.

At the college, the students of the Kababayan Program and Filipino Student Union, with advisors Liza Erpelo and Nate Nevado, have been hosting events and fundraisers to help pay for the costs and expenses of the production. Proceeds from this year's PCN will benefit future productions and go toward scholarships for the students in the Kababayan Program and Filipino Student Union.

New Free Preschool at Fairmont Park in Pacifica

The City of Pacifica Childcare Services Division is now enrolling preschool children, age 3-5, for a new free or reduced cost preschool program in Fairmont Park, 649 Parkview Circle, Pacifica, near the Daly City border.

The part-time preschool program will have 24 to 30 slots available for childcare five days a week, operating Monday through Friday, 9:00 am to noon. The program opened on March 17 and will follow the school year calendar.

The facilities were renovated through a San Mateo SmartKids grant which supports new child care centers and existing centers that are seeking to expand in San Mateo County. The program awards grants to help child care centers cover start-up and expansion costs directly related to facilities for new child care capacity.

The preschool curriculum will be planned around the central theme of developmentally-appropriate activities. Children participate in a wide variety of activities in the areas of art, music, story-telling, dramatic play, language arts, fine and gross motor skills, multicultural activities, cooking and science. The intent of the preschool curriculum is to ready children for their future education and to develop their socialization skills.

The income ceilings for all of the City subsidized programs are $3,894 per month for families of two or less, $4,172 for families of three, $4,636 for families of four, and $5,377 for families of five. All income levels are gross income, before taxes and deductions are taken out. Space is limited and slots will be filled on a first-come basis.
